

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1891.

MIDDLESBOROUGH has three daily newspapers. Pretty soon you'll be hearing of a newspaper funeral over there.

TWELVE members of the present Congress have died—one Senator and eleven Representatives—and the death roll is the largest of any Congress since the foundation of the Government. "Death loves a shining mark."

SENATOR QUAY takes Democrats for a chumps. He says "that should the party nominate Mr. Cleveland in 1892, it would be a very easy matter for the Republican candidate to beat him. He thinks, or says he thinks, that Hill would be a far stronger candidate than Cleveland."

It's very evident Quay doesn't want to fight Cleveland in '92.

THE "Seen and Heard" writer of the Frankfort Capital says: "Last Thursday there met by chance in the rotunda of the House, six members of the General Assembly of 1871-2, who had not met before since the final adjournment of that body. These were Hon. Robert Boyd, Hon. C. M. Clay, Jr., Hon. Walter Evans, Hon. Emory Whitaker, Hon. J. Guthrie Coke and the editor of the Capital. Since their separation, each of these gentlemen has held one or more public positions."

It was observed that though twenty years had passed since these six gentlemen first met, time had dealt kindly with them all, and none looked like an old man, President Clay being the youngest of the party."

THE Cincinnati Post asserts that "reciprocity is but another name for free trade." The Chicago Tribune, the leading Republican paper of the west, says Mr. Blaine is "the apostle of free trade." Referring to the recent reciprocity treaty with Brazil the Tribune adds:

Stimulated by these advantages, the trade between this country and the great Republic of the South will swell to enormous proportions. The United States, instead of taking $55,000,000 worth of products yearly, will take $100,000,000, and instead of sending $9,000,000 worth of its own raw materials and manufactured products to Brazil, it will send $80,000,000.

And so "reciprocity" is going to stimulate the trade between the United States and Brazil to enormous proportions. Free trade doesn't seem to be such a terrible thing after all.

At a meeting of the Tobacco Manufacturers' Association in Louisville Monday it was decided to allow the Executive Committee to act as arbitrator in the difference between the Growers' Association and the warehouses.

The threat of the Growers' Association to open warehouses at Lexington and other points may have won them this consideration, but it's very doubtful whether the warehousemen of Louisville grant the growers any further favors, unless they join the Exchange.

If the growers at the start had perfected a thorough organization and opened warehouses at Maysville, Lexington and other points close to the farmers, they could have been dictating terms to the Louisville and Cincinnati crowd now. It's folly for the growers to open a warehouse anywhere unless they will all unite and support it.

Fire Protection.

The Courier-Journal says: "An insurance man has compiled from the reports of the Insurance Commissioner some figures showing the proportion of losses to receipts by insurance companies in several of the larger towns of the State, covering a period of six years, from 1884 to 1890. Hopkinsville has hit the companies hardest, its receipts from the companies being 114.5 per cent. of the premiums paid. Bowling Green comes next with losses 75.4 per cent. of premiums paid. Paducah received back 68.9 per cent. of its premiums; Owensboro, 67.6 per cent.; Shelbyville, 66.7 per cent.; Frankfort, 63.5 per cent.; Louisville, 63.3; Covington, 60.4 per cent.; Lexington, 46.3 per cent.; Henderson, 44.7 per cent., and Maysville, 32.5 per cent."

This shows that Maysville is the most profitable field in the State for the fire insurance companies. And why shouldn't it be? There isn't another city in the State with better protection from fire. Maysville's water works furnish such splendid protection that it is not often a fire has an opportunity to do much damage.

I HAVE a cousin who is a printer, says Ex-Mayor J. Loughran, of North Des Moines, Ia. Some time ago he was employed in this city where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep seated cold and terrible cough, and while setting up copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured him and that was the first I ever knew of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have been strongly in its favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convinces me that this remedy is the best in the world. That may be strong language, but that is what I think. ## For the Farmer.

INFLUENZA AND ITS SEQUEL—Purpura hemorrhagica, or the so-called black-leg, while not so fatal in itself, though by too much treatment of wrong kind, has caused the death of many thousand dollars' worth of horses. It attacks them in many forms, of more or less severity, from paralysis and lock-jaw (tetanus) to apparent simple colds. The corn they eat when suffering from this disease, loaded with dust from a worn seen for the first time last summer, is poisonous, not only chemically, but being heavy and indigestible, it lies in the convolutions of the intestines and sets up enteritis and causes death. I would advise farmers to look out for this worm dust, as it is nearing foaling time and animals weakened by disease or foaling are particularly susceptible to its poison.

E. P. WHEELER, Veterinarian.

While some New England farms are deserted by their owners because the labor spent in cultivating them is no longer remunerative, more farms have been deserted in Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa because their owners can obtain sufficient rent from tenants to enable them to support their families in towns. These renters, says the February Forum, are generally foreigners and are founding in our Republic a distinct peasant class.

The disease called "black-leg" reported among the horses in Nicholas County a few weeks ago is becoming more prevalent and is spreading. Dr. Paris Wheeler reports many cases in this county. He has an article above on the subject. Several horses have died in this city and county the past week of the disease and George Bramlette, of Nicholas, is said to have lost ten thousand dollars' worth of animals.

Regulations of Lent.

I. All the faithful who have completed their twenty-first year are, unless legitimately dispensed, bound to observe the Fast of Lent.

II. The use of flesh meat is allowed at every meal on Sunday, and once a day on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, excepting Ember Saturday and Holy Saturday. On these two days, and on every Wednesday and Friday of Lent, meat is not allowed.

III. Fish and flesh meat can not be used at the same meal, not even on Sunday.

IV. Eggs, cheese, butter and milk may be used every day of Lent.

V. Only one full meal is allowed each day, except Sunday, and is not to be taken until about noon.

VI. A collation or light refreshment is allowed in the evening. It ought not to exceed the fourth part of an ordinary full meal, or at the most eight ounces.

VII. By special indulgent of the Holy See, dated August 24, 1887:

1. A small piece of bread may be taken with a cup of tea, coffee or thin chocolate, in the morning.

2. When the principal meal of the day can not be had at noon, the order of meals may be inverted, and a collation be taken at noon, and dinner in the evening.

3. The use of lard is allowed in the preparation of food.

4. The faithful dispensed from the obligation of fasting may, whenever such food is allowed once a day to all, eat meat, eggs and other lenten food several times a day.

VIII. The following are exempt from the obligation of the lenten fast: Young persons under twenty-one years of age; the sick; pregnant and nursing women; old people above sixty years of age, and all who are engaged in hard labor.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

PLAYSLICK.

Fine time for playing and stripping tobacco. C. Burgess Taylor has been on the sick list for a few days past.

A wedding in high life here last week among the colored population.

A cold breeze struck this place last Tuesday, but the weather clear and bright.

The sick in this community, so far as we are able to learn, are on the improve.

Prof. Milton Johnson left last Friday evening for Blount County, to visit his father's family.

We had heavy rains Monday morning. 'Tis about the muddest time we have had this winter.

Enos Myall went to Paris Tuesday morning to be present at the sale of his son's property, at Shawhan.

Thomas Gantly and Miss Anna Byron were married at the bride's home, on the Dr. Lawwill place, February 4th.

Mrs. Rebecca Clary has returned from her visit to Slip-Up. She was sick for several days during her absence.

James T. Jackson, of Plughtown, has sold his tobacco in stripping order, February delivery, at $10 from the ground up.

Miss Mary Wilson Jackson, of Shawhan, was here this week visiting her two grandfathers, J. A. Jackson and George Myall.

A building committee will be appointed next Sunday to have the Christian Church in this place remodeled in modern style.

Seymour Myall left Tuesday morning for Paris and there will go to Shawhan to visit the family of W. J. Jackson, his brother-in-law.

C. C. Hopper and wife, of Maysville, were here attending the Hopper-Robb wedding, and remained over night with his mother.

A colored concert for three nights at Oddfellows' Hall by home talent, conducted by Mrs. A. A. Price, was a good thing, and she deserves great credit for her untiring efforts in training the kids.

The sale of George W. Prather, deceased, came off the 5th instant, and was well attended. H. C. Hawkins, auctioneer, was on hand and everything sold at good prices. One young mare brought $150.

Wanted—A boy some ten or twelve years of age, one that don't know everything, one that is apt and willing to learn. A good place can be found for such a boy by calling on J. A. Jackson, at the Stonewall House.

For something good, call on J. A. Jackson. The best N. O. molasses, evaporated apples and apricots, California peaches, big sandy loaves, Irish potatoes; pickles ready for use, full cream cheese, all kinds of canned goods, lard, bacon. Don't forget that old account you owe him. He needs it badly.

Socrates Bowles, generally known as "Crate," has bought the old Goodman place from the late owner, Mr. Bishop, who has spent a good deal of money on improvements during the last two years. Mr. Bowles paid $29,000 cash for it. Possession the first day of March. The farm lies on the Jacktown pike, near Mrs. Mary A. Collins' who wants to sell her place, and it is a good one.

Of all the fresh clean covering that goes down on a floor wheat-colored matting is the freshest and cleanest.

A Burglar Seare.

In a residence on Fifty-eighth street the other evening a couple of young ladies had a curious adventure. Being alone in the house, they heard the burglar alarm go off with a loud report. One of them called their servant, and receiving no response, she started down to see what was the matter, but was startled to see a savage looking man climbing in at one of the windows, revolver in hand. Although much excited she still summoned courage enough to order him out. He answered, "Don't be afraid, Miss; I'm a detective." She thought this was a ruse and ran to the front door. Here she was suddenly seized around the waist by a man stationed at the door, who exclaimed, "You are my prisoner."

At this juncture the first burglar came down stairs and an explanation followed. It appears that the servant, Maggie, had gone out on some errand, and in closing the door behind her had set off the burglar alarm. In trying to open the door she heard the screams of the young lady above; she rushed up the street; the first couple of men she met happened to be detectives; she exclaimed, "Oh, gentlemen, do go in—there is murder being done." The brave detectives went to the rescue, with the results we have seen above.—New York Star.

A Wool and Snow Dietary.

A reasonable yarn comes from Beaver Falls, Pa. Farmer George Wilson, who lives in Franklin township, is the narrator. Three of his sheep were missed during the snow storm the night before Christmas and were not found again for twelve days, when a farm hand discovered them in a hollow, where the snow had drifted to a depth of twenty feet. A hole was shoveled into the drift, and the sheep were found there safe and sound, after their twelve days' fast. One of the strangest things of the whole affair was that they had not a particle of wool on their backs. Their hunger had driven them to eat every roll of wool on each other's backs. They had also eaten such a quantity of snow, which, together with the heat from their bodies, made a veritable chamber or cave. The cave was twenty feet in circumference by five feet high. At last reports the animals were all doing well, though they seem to be things of great interest to the other sheep, which recognize their fellows, but are unable, apparently, to account for their entire absence of wool.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Paper Horseshoes.

It seems not unlikely that a change is imminent in the method of shoeing horses for military work. The German papers are devoting a great deal of attention to the discussion which is now going on in the military world as to the advisability of substituting compressed paper for iron in horseshoes for the German cavalry and artillery. After many experiments under all manner of conditions it has been found that the shoe which appears to be most worthy of adoption is made up of sheets of parchment paper cemented together with a special cement composed of turpentine, Spanish white, lac and boiled linseed oil. The separate pieces are stamped out, cemented and pressed together in a hydraulic press. When dry the shoe thus formed is rasped into the exact form and size required.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Sleigh That Carted Silver.

Dave Crosby has purchased the old sleigh of the Bonanza company. This cutter has probably carried more wealth in its time than any other runnerv vehicle in the world. It conveyed in the winter season all the bullion in the palmy days from the mills of the company to the assay office, and thence to the place of shipment. It has been in active service as bullion carrier for upward of twenty years. The precious metal it has transported, if coined into money, would carpet with metallic currency a ten acre lot, with a residue sufficient to furnish half a dozen seats in the United States Senate.—Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.

How Some Reporters Work.

We started in to get out our first edition a week ago yesterday, and the following are the hours kept by one man on the paper:

From 12 noon Thursday to 7 a. m. Friday.
From 12 noon Friday to 11:30 p. m. Saturday.
From 10:30 a. m. Sunday to 7 a. m. Monday.
From 12 noon Monday to 7 a. m. Tuesday.
From 11:30 a. m. Tuesday to 5 a. m. Wednesday.
From 11:45 a. m. Wednesday to 5:30 a. m. Thursday.

Total number of hours at work for the week amount to 129 hours 45 minutes. Average, 18 hours 32 minutes a day.—Newburyport Standard.

A Farmer's Predicament.

A western Nebraska farmer, having no corn to feed them, loaded up a wagon box full of shoats and took them to Broken Bow to sell. No one would take them, and he turned them loose. The marshal told him he would arrest him unless he took them out of town. He then drove home and was going to kill them when some one told him that he might be arrested for cruelty to animals. He hardly knows what to do.—St. Joseph News.

Walter M. Leman, a veteran actor, who had played before Gen. Jackson, Davy Crockett, Aaron Burr, Charles Dickens and other celebrities, some of whom he knew personally, has just died at San Francisco at the age of 78 years.

The old Blake homestead, which is being torn down in Indianapolis to make way for modern residences, has sheltered some very distinguished people in its time. Henry Clay and Van Buren were frequently entertained there, and many other noted men had been guests within its famous walls. It was one of the oldest residences in Indiana.

The Latest.

[New York World.]

The secret of artistic dressing is to match the hair or skin.

Things that proclaim their cost, like diamonds, stiff silks, velvets and passementerie, are not conducive to genteel dress.

A tall, gaunt, angular awkward woman will appear less so in something light and floating, some soft, clinging material that will follow every movement, multiply lines and obliterate angles.

It is a mistake to make a curiosity shelf of mantelpiece or cabinet. Old blue and white Nankin china is not expensive, and a collection of this ware will give any interior artistic beauty.

Frills of Fashion.

Cranberry red is the new color and is decidedly pretty.

Tea is served after afternoon lectures given at private houses.

Roman stripe couch covers have been and still are very effective and popular.

Two furs are much combined in winter jackets. Astrakhan and mink is a favorite mixture.

Turquoise blue is much worn, and the jewels, or rather their imitations, still remain favorites with millions.

Collar bands are straight and high, but are cut bias of the material to give width at the lower edge and smallness at the top.

BERGEN'S Asthma Cure

NEVER FAILS.

For Asthma this remedy is an absolute specific, not only giving relief, but effecting a sure and permanent cure. If the plain and simple directions are faithfully adhered to.

We mean just what we say—that BERGEN'S ASTHMA CURE positively does cure Asthma of long standing when all other medicines fail, as thousands are willing to testify.

In Bronchitis, Coughs and Colds we guarantee this medicine in each and every case, to cure any case of coughs when everything else has failed.

TO THE CONSUMPTIVE: When your family physician has given you up; when your family have given up all hope, BERGEN'S ASTHMA CURE will carry you safely over the bridge and restore you to perfect health.

This medicine is sold on its merits, and ample testimony will be furnished on application.

Bergen's Asthma Cure Company,

PETERSBURG, IND.

For Sale by J. JAMES WOOD, Druggist.

HARRISBURG, IND., August 28, 1890.
Dr. J. W. Bergen, Petersburg, Ind.—Dear Sir: I have been a sufferer from Asthma since 1873. I began the use of "Bergen's Asthma Cure" last June. The first week or two after I began using the "Cure" I felt slight symptoms of asthma at different times, but in the last six weeks I have not felt an asthmatic symptom. I now sleep soundly. After all these years of search for relief I can now say "Eureka." Respectfully yours, REV. J. B. HADLOCK, Pastor C. P. Church.

THE WALKER WAREHOUSE.

VANCEBURG, KY., January 24, 1891.

Mr. Geo. C. Walker, Cincinnati, O.—My Dear Friend: I am just in receipt of yours enclosing the L. N. Walker Company check for $1,335.43, for proceeds of sale of eleven hogheads of tobacco, for which accept my thanks. To say that I am delighted does not do the subject justice. It went so far beyond my fondest expectations that I am really dazed. Yet when I entrusted this tobacco to you, personally I felt sure you would see me out, which I am glad to say you have done to my utmost satisfaction, and for which I will always hold you in grateful remembrance.

I have six or seven hogheads which I will ship you as soon as I can get it ready—in probably ten days. I will use every effort in my power to get other parties to ship to the Walker.

With kind regards to your father, I am very truly your friend, (dt16) T. B. HARRISON.
